

I believe the proposed 5MHz band should be sub-banded for narrow and wide band modes and should be open to general class and above. This would prompt more manufacturers to add the band to their new products.